

JENNIFER R. PETERSEN

JOINS GROSS & WELCH

The Omaha law firm of Gross & Welch is pleased to announce that Jennifer R. Petersen has joined the firm.

Ms. Petersen earned her law degree from University of Iowa in 1998, where she graduated with distinction. Her past ten years of experience have been focused in litigation, employment law and labor law.

Her background and expertise in the area of employment and labor law further enhance the firm's strong corporate law practice. In addition, her litigation experience enables her to handle all aspects of a client's labor and employment issues from the initial charge of discrimination through appeal.

Ms. Petersen is licensed to practice in Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota. She is also an active member of the states' respective bar associations. In addition, she has served as Secretary of the Omaha Bar Association for four terms, and was a member of the Executive Council from 2005 to 2007. Ms. Petersen has also been a speaker at numerous labor and employment law seminars.

The law firm of Gross & Welch was founded in 1927 by Daniel J. Gross. The firm includes 24 attorneys practicing in the following areas: civil litigation, business law, insurance law, estate planning and probate, employment and labor law, real estate, and workers' compensation.
